

Scandalous a fast play solo RPG by Rod Humble

In this solo RPG You'll sequentially traverse 13 tables, employing a 66-sided die mechanism (2d6). The first die gives the first digit, the second the second digit, generating 36 possible results from 11 to 66. Your dice rolls map to a table entry, leading you through the game as you create the narrative of your choice. You will need a pair of regular dice and imagination.
Game instructions

1. Roll: Begin with a roll on each table. If the result fits your unfolding story, use it.

2. Re-roll: Unhappy with the outcome? You may choose one re-roll, but the new result is final.

3. Proceed: Advance to the next table, interpreting the outcome within your adventure. Follow the sequence from table 1 to 13.

4. Imagine: Reflect on or record each roll, choice, and reaction. Consider their broader implications on your journey.

Throughout the 13 tables, weave the results and discarded rolls into your narrative. Your creativity will guide your tale, reflecting not only on chosen paths but also on what might have been. The game ends after all 13 tables are traversed, culminating in the resolution of your story.

1. Inspirations: Early experiences that ignite your love for fashion, from discovering high couture in a glossy magazine to your first time clubbing in an outfit that makes heads turn.

2. Trials: Academic and life challenges that shape your skills, including late-night design sessions fueled by coffee and maybe something stronger, and heated debates in the halls of your design school.

3. Portfolio Genesis: Creating your first portfolio amidst a whirlwind of passion and young love, setting the stage for your aesthetic vision and personal branding.

4. First Collection: Debuting your initial line, capturing attention both on the runway and in backstage dalliances; it's not just your designs that are making a statement.

5. The Business: Schmoozing and negotiating in glitzy industry parties and high-stakes meetings, forming bonds and rivalries with key figures in the industry over champagne and secrets.

6. Craft: Perfecting your skills and design ethos amidst the glamour and grime, from meticulous fabric selection to sexual escapades that inspire new textures and forms.

7. Sensation: Unveiling your second major collection to rave reviews, solidifying your status as a serious designer and a desirable fixture in the nightlife scene.

8. Crisis: Facing hurdles in your professional life that test your will, whether it's a failed collection or a tabloid scandal involving sex or drugs that puts your reputation at risk.

9. Life: Meeting personal challenges and distractions head-on, like tumultuous relationships or hedonistic distractions, that make you question your role and desires in this glamorous yet demanding industry.

10. Expression: Launching your third groundbreaking collection inspired by a transformative love affair or an eye-opening psychedelic experience, setting new standards in fashion and self-discovery.

11. Brand Evolution: Adapting your brand and personal philosophy in a strategic pivot, perhaps prompted by new sexual or aesthetic awakenings, or a sobering encounter that changes your perspective.

12. The Moments: Achieving career milestones that define your legacy, be it prestigious awards, lucrative collaborations, or unforgettable sexual and social encounters that immortalize you in industry lore.

13. Legacy and Impact: Reflecting on a rollercoaster journey of fame, love, and artistic creation, weighing your contributions to fashion against the personal costs and future possibilities.

Examples of play:
Table 1. Inspirations:
I rolled a 34 for my first result on this table - An eye-opening trip to a fashion capital like Paris or Milan. As a teenager, I visited Milan during fashion week and was awestruck by the glamour and creativity on display. Seeing the runway shows ignited my passion for fashion design.

For my re-roll, I got a 12 - A romantic encounter with a model inspires my understanding of how fabric complements the human form. Early in my design career, I had a steamy fling with an up-and-coming model. Our time together helped me appreciate how clothing should move with and flatter the body.

Table 2. Trials:
I rolled a 23 - You enter a design competition and lose, prompting soul-searching and questions about your talent. Early on, I entered a major student design competition and unfortunately did not place. At first devastated, the loss forced me to take a hard look at my skills and rededicate myself to improving as a designer.

Table 3. Portfolio Genesis:
For this, I rolled a 15 - An experimental drug experience unlocks new design ideas, but also puts you on a dangerous path. Around this time, I started experimenting with recreational drugs, and some of my strangest and most avant-garde design concepts came out of these hazy sessions. While creatively fruitful, this lifestyle led me down an unhealthy road.

Table 4. First Collection:
I rolled a 66 - Your collection is bought in its entirety by an anonymous client who later reveals themselves as a famous musician, setting up a future of endless possibilities. My first major collection show was a hit, and shockingly purchased in full by a anonymous buyer who turned out to be an edgy pop star. They continued to wear my designs, helping launch me into the spotlight.

Table 5. The Business:
For my roll on this table, I got a 46 - Your current romantic interest offers to endorse your brand. Is it ethical? I started dating a handsome young actor who offered to be the face of my fashion label. While great for publicity, I wrestled with whether using our relationship this way felt right. I declined and so I decided to re roll and got a 12 -The Velvet Rope: An exclusive industry party invitation arrives, but you're only allowed a plus-one. Who do you take? I took my current romantic interest who looked stunning and improved both our image.

Table 6. The Craft:
I rolled a 25 - Your designs unintentionally appropriate another culture. Do you pull the line? Midway through my career, I designed a collection inspired by tribal aesthetics. I was subsequently called out for cultural appropriation. I apologized and pulled the line, using it as a lesson in responsible design.

Table 7. Sensation:

For this table, I rolled a 46 - An opportunity to design costumes for their next big project. My work came to the attention of an acclaimed film director, who tapped me to design costumes for their upcoming blockbuster. Seeing my work on the big screen was a career highlight.

Table 8. Crisis:
I rolled a 64 - Rehab Stint: Pressure forces you into a rehab facility. The constant partying and substance use had caught up with me. On the advice of friends and family, I checked into rehab to regain control of my health and life.

Table 9. Life:

My roll was a 53 - A family crisis disrupts your studies, forcing you to manage personal drama alongside academic pressures. When I was still a student, a family emergency pulled my focus away from school. I struggled but persevered through that difficult period.

Table 10. Expression:
For this table, I rolled a 22 - Vintage Revival: You skillfully update retro styles, appealing to a new generation of fashionistas. I found inspiration in past eras, blending vintage elegance with modern sex appeal. This line was a crossover hit.

Table 11. Brand Evolution:
I got a 54 - A scandalous tabloid rumor forces you to rebrand with a focus on integrity. When false allegations about me surfaced in gossip columns, I used the controvery as motivation to rebuild my brand as one known for ethics and transparency.

Table 12. The Moments:
I rolled a 33 - Mysterious Affair: A clandestine relationship with an influential critic becomes an open secret, affecting your reputation. I had a private fling with a prominent fashion journalist. When it got out, it cast a shadow over my public persona.

Table 13. Legacy and Impact:
Finally, I rolled a 65 - Fashion Philosophy: You publish a book about the philosophy of fashion, merging intellectual and sensual passions. In my later years, I wrote a book diving deep into the meaning and emotions behind fashion, weaving in my personal experiences.

Designer notes:
This one is pure glamour and high life drama. It continues my fast play RPG series. Just roll on each table and re roll if you want. I had a blast making and playing this one I hope you do as well.

Love you to you all and see you on the fashion runway.
